For those already certified, the revision process may offer additional value depending on your level of diving experience. What is a PADI License Revision? A license revision is a renewing of your dive certification by completing an online review and a written exam (be sure to bring your certifier's license number with you to the exam). These review courses are available online via ProDiver and are conveniently located on the main PADI website. How does it work? You start the process by taking the appropriate course based on the number of years you have been diving. If you have been diving for less than five years, you may be asked to complete the Advanced Open Water course. If you have been diving for more than five years, you may be asked to complete the Specialty course. In either case, you will need to first pass the written exam, then complete the online review before you will be allowed to begin diving. The exam will cover some information you may already know, but there will also be some new questions that you must answer to successfully pass. If you do not pass, you will be allowed to complete the course again, and if you pass, you will be given a temporary license until you have completed the full review and written exam. PADI reviews are included in most dive packages. If not, you can purchase them on their own online. Conclusion There are many great reasons to complete a license revision. PADI reviews are completed at the company's convenience and are usually done over several weeks, depending on how quickly you complete them. What is also great about this is that it allows you to keep your diving license active for life. However, if you choose to dive without a license, you will have to renew it each year and pay a fee to do so. 2d92ce491b
