Over the past few years, more and more organizations have sought to take advantage of the tremendous growth in marketplaces to provide a better consumer experience and to bring new offerings to consumers. For example, marketplaces may include user applications or sites that, among other things, provide consumers with reviews of products and services provided by various sellers and offer the ability to purchase and/or redeem coupons or discounts for a purchase. Marketplaces may also provide promotional items, such as vouchers and/or coupons, which may be used in lieu of physical currency. Typically, a consumer makes a purchase through a single seller. To maximize the effectiveness of the coupons or promotional items, there is a need for a system and method for providing increased engagement between a
