Q: How to check if a datetime value has passed to the current hour in SQL I'm trying to check if a datetime value has passed to the current hour in SQL. I have searched for similar answers and found this: CASE WHEN to_char(current_date,'HH24') = '01:00:00' THEN 1 WHEN to_char(current_date,'HH24') = '12:00:00' THEN 2 ELSE 3 END Can you help me to better this query? A: The expression will evaluate to true if current_date is between 1:00:00 and 12:00:00. The result of a time expression is not always exact, you can't treat it as a string, as the DATE type does.
