When players are running, sprinting, making crosses or working hard in tight spaces, their movements and actions are captured in real time. This data is translated into each player's movement model, which is what the game engine uses to give the game character and bring new life to the pitches of the world. Players can move up to three layers deeper in the game engine, giving each animation layer its own animations. "HyperMotion Technology" combines player and ball data to create player models that look realistic and feel realistic. To see this technology in action, watch Pro Evolution Soccer 2014 Max: "PES 2014 Motion Editor" now available for Xbox One. Discover the "HyperMotion Engine", which uses data collected from 22 real-life players to create player models that look realistic and feel realistic. The engine provides unprecedented performance and provides a "live" view of every player's movements and actions, including their running speed, acceleration, intensity, footwork, and body twists and turns. Match engine enhancements: Virtual Pro Mouse, Tactical Player Interaction, Spectator Scoring, Extended Edition Mode and more FIFA 22 introduces "Virtual Pro Mouse," which uses a new mouse input method that enables players to move the virtual Pro Player Pitch Kit™ cursor by moving their real-life cursor around the controller. This allows players to use their controller motion to control an onscreen cursor, and makes aiming and firing a cross or a corner a more natural experience. Play Video Spectator mode enhancements: Spectators now have the option to put the ball into play or shoot a free kick from the center circle. A Spectator Scoreboard has been added, which displays the score of your team and the opposition, and lets you choose from a variety of different game type formats, including Classic or Spectacular. • Quick Shoot: Puts the play into a penalty shootout mode for the next 15 seconds • Scoreboard: Allows players to see the team's and the opposition's scores throughout the match • Match Draft: Players draft their line-up into a team • Gametype: Allows players to select different types of gameplay, including Classic, League, Futsal or Free Kick mode • In-Game Scoring: Corrects the score for goals scored and encourages the players on your team to score when attacking The game has also introduced tactical player
