One of the first game modes to be revealed using this technology was FUT Champions, a brand new team mode in FIFA 22 set in the history of the sport. Playing teams of up to 32 virtual players, this game mode recreates the look, feel and depth of a pitch, so fans can train, scout and plan for real opponents. The second mode, Stadium Tour, will bring to life some of the greatest fan-favourite venues around the world. You can follow the progress of the stadium buildover online, and find out what time gates open, where to find parking and the team's latest training video as you make your way there. Any Stadium Tour match can also be played online, so fans can follow their team's progress and challenge their friends. Another new mode, FreeKick Rush, places players on one side of the pitch and allows them to try to score a goal before the goalkeeper. The aim is to see how well teams can work together as they rush towards the goal. When playing in online matches, you can take part in a goal celebration competition with three other players of your choosing, and can send your celebration through to the crowd and stadiums using the new live celebrations feature. FIFA's VR system for the Xbox One and PS4 allows you to immerse yourself in the virtual world FIFA 22's new VR matches are the first game in the series to use virtual reality, allowing you to put on a headset and experience the pitch as a literal 3D environment. Now you can enter the broadcast studio with the leading broadcasters, try on the referees' kit and pitchside, and experience the feeling of playing in front of a packed stadium with a 360° view of the action. And you can view stadiums from every angle, experience the home environment of your favourite players, and see off your friends as you try to score that winning goal. Create your own dream team and take part in practice sessions with your favourite clubs and players for the ultimate football experience. All gameplay modes support online games and players can now use the new "Custom Matchmaking" feature to create their own matches as well as compete against friends and other players. This allows you to play any matchday, against any other player, including those from rival teams and other soccer leagues. With more and more custom match options, you can play any game of your choosing with AI opponents. You can also customise stadium views and settings, so every Stadium Tour match is unique. The "Peak

Fifa 22

EA SPORTS™ FIFA is the official videogame of the FIFA franchise. Players take control of a team in real-world World Cups and other competitions, and use their player's authentic skills and abilities to compete on the pitch.

Set in Brazil in 2014, FIFA 22 presents bigger and better ways to experience World Cup™, including revamped menus, refinements to visual effects and animations, and a new "Intelligent Volume" system for replays. In addition, players now share the pitch with other real players in the crowd, delivering a more authentic experience. A complete redesign of the experience for FIFA Ultimate Team™ gives players a fresh new squad-building mode that lets them create their dream squad of players from over 50 years of football history, reflecting the fact that real players come from around the world. Players' clubs can now be reflected in the way players appear when on the pitch, and include details such as club name, crest, stadium and kit. Matchday atmosphere also has improved with enhanced crowd reactions, pitch decorations and ambient crowd noise from the crowd in over 60 stadiums worldwide. All this combines to deliver an even better football simulation. All-New Player Attributes Players are now more agile, powerful and intelligent in FIFA 22. A number of new and improved physical and mental attributes allow players to run at top speed, sprint with more power, perform new acrobatic moves, and even make intelligent decisions. Players also change direction more precisely and intercept the ball with more intelligence. "We wanted to fundamentally change how players move and interact with the ball," said Andrei Medvedev, Senior Producer on FIFA 22. "Intelligent Volume is the most important and exciting of the new features we've developed for this new iteration of FIFA. It's the key to unlocking the next level of realism and immersion in FIFA, and we've taken this concept from other sports, such as racing, to bring it to football." Intelligent Volume gives fans a way to influence the audio of every football match via the new "Match Day Atmosphere" feature. Players can rewind clips and replay goals to hear the same crowd roar, boo, whistle and celebrate. Players can even adjust the audio settings for their listening experience. When players score and win in FIFA 22, they will hear the crowd erupt. The new audio features also let fans feel like they are in the crowd with cheers, chants and whistles.
